

Hello, my name is Julian Grüneberg I am 27 years old.

I would like to apply for the offered position as UX/UI Designer.

A few weeks ago I successfully completed my studies at the Hochschule für Gestaltung in Schwäbisch Gmünd in the field of interaction design.

My Bachelor project "Cubis - A Concept for the Dynamic Use of Meeting and Workspaces" was marked 1,8 by the professors present.

For the last one and a half years I was working as a student worker and intern at a start-up in Stuttgart. Therefore I had direct customer contact and managed my own projects. The main part was the conception and design of native apps for the smartphone, browser-based web apps and all kinds of communication design activities such as the design of logos, illustrations and print media.

These experiences also allowed me to gain a broad knowledge of thinking and working as well as culture and hierarchies within startups.

My strengths are on the one hand customer-oriented and rapid conception and elaboration of MVPs, as well as fundamental questioning, optimization and design of products and services on the basis of established design methods.

I am currently looking for a full-time position starting Sept. 1, 2019.

My salary expectations are a gross annual salary in the range of 47.500€.

If I could awaken your interest now, you can take a look at my online portfolio at <http://www.juliangueneberg.com>.

I would be very pleased about a positive feedback.

I am interested in a first exchange via telephone and a personal meeting afterwards.

Best regards,

Julian Grüneberg
